MEN'S INSTITUTES

have been established to help men to make good the lack of opportunities in earlier life and to bring them together in a friendly atmosphere in the pursuit of useful hobbies.

Men of all ages over 18 are eligible for admission to these Institutes, and no man need be discouraged from joining the classes by the fear that his previous education is not sufficient.

Men's Institutes give a chance of discovering and developing unsuspected talent.

They afford an opportunity of keeping in touch with social and scientific developments.

They offer guidance in the selection and pursuit of useful and absorbing hobbies.

They are meeting-places for men with similar tastes and interests.

FEEES

Is. 3d. per term for all subjects (there are three terms in the session). Students may enrol at any time.

These fees cover attendance at this Institute only.

In special circumstances the Head may admit students at a reduced fee. Personal application to the Head is necessary if this concession is desired.

Unemployed Men.—Registered unemployed men may be admitted, so long as they remain unemployed, to men's Institutes on payment of a registration fee of 6d. a session. Normal fees will be payable from the end of the term in which they secure employment.

Students living outside the Administrative County of London may, in many cases, be admitted at the ordinary London fee. Full particulars may be obtained from the Head of the Institute.

The right to refuse admission to the Institute or to any class is reserved.
